Note : Read the following passage and answer the questions.

A Close look at the facts relating nexus. to political interference in administration shows that it is not a one-way process. There is often a nexus between power-hungry and corrupt politicians and civil servants with convenient principles. Many civil servants are only too anxious to oblige the politicians, and then cash the obligation when they need some special favour. So the attitude of self-righteousness adopted by the civil servants is sometimes only a way of covering their own flaws by blaming others.

Every now and then some retired civil servants come out with their memoirs suggesting political interference. It is not usual for the self-styled hero to blame not only interfering politicians but also fellow civil servants for their failures, if any. This attitude of smug self-satisfaction is, unfortunately developed during the years of service. Self preservation is encouraged by our whole system of rules and procedures.

21. Passage suggests that :

- (1) There is no political interference in the functioning of civil servants
 (2) All civil servants succumb to political pressure
 (3) There are some civil servants who compromise with their integrity while obliging the politicians
 (4) All politicians are corrupt

22. The memoirs are, meant to :

- (1) glorify the writers achievements (2) ignore the politicians
 (3) blame the fellow civil servants (4) None of these

23. The existing system of administration seems to encourage civil servants :

- (1) To become self-styled heroes
 (2) To praise the politicians
 (3) To become self-centred and concerned only about their gain.
 (4) To become self-righteous
