

Faculty Members and Students are Cordially Invited

Under Extension Lecture Series Programme of Chaudhry Ranbir Singh Institute of Social and Economic Change Prof. Jayant Lele, Queen's University, Kingston, Canada will deliver a special lecture on "Society Beyond Justice " on February 5th, 2016 (11:00 am) at Swaraj Sadan, M D University, Rohtak.

Dr. Jayant Lele is Professor Emeritus in the Departments of Political Studies, Sociology and Global Development Studies at Queen's University at Kingston in Canada. After post-graduate education from Poona University he was awarded a doctoral studies fellowship by the Ford Foundation and a research fellowship by the American Institute of Indian Studies. He holds a Ph.D. in Development Sociology from Cornell University. He has served as the Head of the Sociology Department, and as the Coordinator and Chair of the Programme for Study in National and International Development. He was also the founder coordinator of the Department of Global Development Studies at Queen's University. Professor Lele served as member of the Disability Subcommittee of the United Nations Regional Interorganizational Committee for Asia Pacific (RICAP)

Professor Lele's research interests include studies of rural and national politics in India and of party politics in Canada, evaluation of public policy processes and community-based programmes, critical reinterpretation of the modernity of tradition as well as the political economy of India, Southeast Asia, and Canada.