ASSOCIATION OF MICROBIOLOGISTS OF INDIA

The Association of Microbiologists of India established in 1938 is one of the oldest and reputed scientific organizations of the country. Since its inception, it has contributed significantly towards development of microbiology, particularly in areas of research teaching and commerce in country. The Association publishes a quarterly journal, "Indian Journal of Microbiology" for the last 45 years and holds a National convention annually at one of the well established centers of microbiology in the country. At present, there are more than 2500 life and annual members and about 400 corporate members of the Association. The Association of Microbiologists of India (AMI) was founded in 1938 to promote Microbiology and to provide a common platform for academicians and researchers working in different areas such as agriculture, human and animal health care, environment and industrial microbiology, food and molecular microbiology.

ABOUT UNIVERSITY

Maharshi Dayanand University, ab initio established as Rohtak University, Rohtak, came into existence by an Act No. 25 of 1975 of the Haryana Legislative Assembly in 1976 with the objective to promote inter-disciplinary higher education and research in the fields of environmental, ecological and life sciences. It was rechristened as Maharshi Dayanand University in 1977 after the name of a great visionary and social reformer, Maharshi Dayanand. It had a unitary and residential character in its nascent stage, but became an affiliating University in November 1978.

The University is located at Rohtak in the state of Haryana - about 75 kms from Delhi on Delhi-Hisar National Highway (NH-10). It is well connected both by rail as well as road. Rohtak is the education hub of the State with excellent facilities for education in all fields of knowledge. The University campus, spread over an area of over 665.44 acres, is well laid with state-of-the-art buildings and presents a spectacle of harmony in architecture and natural beauty.

Education is offered through its 36 departments. Besides, the University runs some programmes through its Regional Centre, Meerpur (Rewari) and University Institute of Law & Management Studies (ULIMS), Gurgaon.

THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Microbiology was established in June, 2009, with objectives like providing education and training facilities, carrying out application oriented research, developing in-house technologies and promoting consultancy services in various areas of Microbiology. The department currently offers Two M. Sc. Courses viz. M.Sc. Microbiology, M.Sc. Microbial Biotechnology and Ph.D. programme in areas of Microbiology.

AMI UNIT at Rohtak

Rohtak AMI Unit is one of the registered and recognized units of AMI established in 2010, having more than 150 members. We are annually holding sensitization programmes/seminars for the benefits of students and teachers and motivational lectures for school students related with biotechnology and microbiology.
