

DEPARTMENT OF LAW
M. D. UNIVERSITY, ROHTAK

A. INTRODUCTION

The Department of Law is organizing a one day students' workshop on the theme “Menace of Corruption in India” on 17 Oct, 2016, sponsored by Dean Students Welfare Office (Radha Krishnan Foundation Fund) in IHTM Conference Hall

B. ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

The problem of corruption in the Indian society has prevailed from time immemorial in one form or the other. The basic inception of corruption started with our opportunistic leaders who have already done greater damage to our nation. People who work on right principles are unrecognized and considered to be foolish in the modern society. Corruption in India is mainly a result of the connection between bureaucrats, politicians and criminals. Earlier, bribes were paid for getting wrong things done, but now bribe is paid for getting right things done at right time. Further, corruption has become something respectable in India, because respectable people are involved in it. In today's scenario, if a person wants a government job he has to pay lakhs of rupees to the higher officials irrespective of satisfying all the eligibility criteria. In every office one has either to give money to the employee concerned or arrange for some sources to get work done. .

The major cause of concern is that corruption is weakening the political body and damaging the supreme importance of the law governing the society. It affects the country's economy also. Tax evasion is one of the most popular forms of corruption. It is mostly practiced by Government officials and politicians who lead to the accumulation of black money which in turn spoils the moral of the people. The main causes of corruption in India include excessive regulations, complicated taxes and licensing systems, numerous government departments each with opaque bureaucracy and discretionary powers, monopoly by government controlled institutions on certain goods and services delivery, and the lack of transparent laws and processes. More so, People in general, have a great thirst for luxuries and comforts and as a result of which they get themselves involved in all unscrupulous activities that result in monetary or material benefits. Moral and spiritual values are not given utmost importance in educational system, which is highly responsible for the deterioration of the society. Not only this, the salary paid to employees is very less and as a result of which they are forced to earn money by illegal ways. To make things worse, the punishment imposed on the criminals is inadequate in comparison to the crime committed.

C. OBJECTIVES OF THE WORKSHOP:

The proposed workshop endeavours to discuss and deliberate on various aspects of corruption along with the ways to control it. The participating students are definitely going to learn a lot on how to find a way to get rid of this menace for the purpose of establishing an ideal and corruption free society. Moreover, workshop is primarily organised to encourage the students to learn the tools for implementing laws to combat the corruption and also to give the suggestions to control the same in present scenario.
