Overview:

Traditionally, an Indian woman had four fold status-role sequences. These were her role as a daughter, wife, housewife (homemaker), and mother. The woman, whose status and role traditionally was well defined and almost fixed in the society, is now experiencing far-reaching changes. Women is the pillar of the society because of the numerous roles she plays be it family or business. But since long women has also faced much discrimination in the society. The contribution of women in the business world has increased in the recent years, although women are underrepresented in management and leadership. Despite women making up 60% of hospitality and tourism workforce, only 15% make it to senior positions according to British Hospitality Associations. (BHA). Women Empowerment is the empowerment of women which helps them to take their own decisions by breaking all personal limitations of society and family.

The United Nations has organized many world seminars on women and there are many such organizations worldwide which work for upliftment of women like National Alliance of women, National Federation of Business and Professional Women, National Federation of University women etc. But still we see very few women are able to reach higher positions, face discrimination regarding compensation, benefits, work life balance issues, family issues like childcare responsibilities, safety and security issues etc.

There are still lots of issues to discuss and debate. For this reason, the seminar aims at addressing the above critical issues by providing a platform for academicians, researchers and professionals who share similar interest to present their research findings.

The sub themes for the seminar may include (however not limited to):

- Gender Equality at workplace
- The future role of women
- Work Life Balance Issues
- Career Progression of women in Hospitality and Tourism
- Women and Society
- Women Health Issues at workplace
